THE NEW ENGLAND CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC

The New England Conservatory of Music was founded on February 18, 1867 by Eben Tourjée as successor to, and continuation of, a conservatory which he had founded in Providence in 1864. His wise guidance and that of his successors, Carl Faelton, George Chadwick, Wallace Goodrich and Quincy Porter, first achieved and then consolidated the Conservatory's international reputation as an outstanding school of applied music and of music education. Since 1946, under the vigorous and imaginative direction of President Harrison Keller, the Conservatory has achieved leadership in all fields of music, expanded its services to students and to the public, and raised its standards of teaching, of scholarship and of performance. The Conservatory is a member of the New England Regional Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools and the degrees of Bachelor of Music and Master of Music which it awards meet the requirements of accreditation throughout the United States.

Located near the heart of Boston, the Conservatory is in close proximity to Symphony Hall, the Opera House, the Museum of Fine Arts and the Boston Public Library. Its own Jordan Hall, seating over a thousand persons and famous for its acoustics, is the scene of the public concerts by the Conservatory Orchestra and Chorus, as well as by famous artists and ensemble groups from all over the world. There are two other auditoriums, Brown Hall for operas, rehearsals, student concerts and student activities, and Recital Hall for small concerts and student recitals. These three halls, together with the Conservatory's ninety-five class and practice rooms, libraries, lounges, club rooms, cafeteria, and recording and other facilities, are all located in one building, designed and built for the purpose in 1901 and substantially enlarged in 1928.

The New England Conservatory is a college of music with an academic department which offers courses in the humanities, languages, and social sciences. The degrees of Bachelor of Music and Master of Music are awarded in piano, organ, voice, and all the orchestral instruments, and in church music, theory, composition, music education, historical research, music therapy and opera direction. Performers of exceptional ability are granted the New England Conservatory Artist's Diploma upon completion of the requirements of a special course of study. For specialists in Popular Music, the Conservatory offers three courses leading to Certificates in voice, instrumental performance, or arranging.

Students at the New England Conservatory have unusual opportunities. Almost from the beginning there developed a close association with the Boston Symphony Orchestra whereby the first-chair men of the orchestra all have the privilege of joining the Conservatory Faculty and are available to advanced students for instrumental instruction. Summer study and work at the Berkshire Music Center in Tanglewood is open to all qualified students. The Conservatory Opera department, in association with the New England Opera Theatre, gives opera students an almost unique training, while those studying to be teachers or music therapists receive thorough field training. The Conservatory Orchestra is a full symphony orchestra and, together with the String, Brass and Woodwind Ensembles and the Popular Music Orchestra, offers instrumental students frequent opportunities for performance both in the concert hall and over the radio. The Conservatory Chorus, consisting of 125 mixed voices, gives several concerts each year as well as assisting in the Boston Symphony subscription season through the performance of one or more major works for chorus and orchestra.

To receive this training, students come from all over the United States and Canada, from Central and South America, most of the countries of Western Europe, Egypt, Iran, India, Malaya, Japan, China and both Indies. In turn, many Conservatory graduates have won Fulbright Scholarships and still more have won other scholarships for study abroad. Graduates of the Voice Department are singing in European as well as American opera companies, including the Metropolitan, and instrumental graduates are playing in almost every major orchestra in the country. Many others are appearing on the concert and musical stage, as church soloists, and with dance orchestras. Hundreds are supervisors of music in their cities or towns and even more are studio teachers, while many thousands enrich life in homes where music is considered essential.

The goal of the New England Conservatory throughout its program is to develop each student insofar as possible into a "complete musician," a broadly educated, responsible citizen, musically literate, and possessing an artistic zeal — one who can create music, project music, teach music, and stimulate in others an understanding and love of music.

THE UNDERGRADUATE DEPARTMENT

BACHELOR OF MUSIC DEGREE

The New England Conservatory of Music is a charter member of the National Association of Schools of Music and a member of the New England Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. The degree of Bachelor of Music which it is authorized to grant meets the requirements of these accrediting bodies. The curricula as established by the President and Faculty Council are designed to produce musicians with a high degree of skill in their major subject, a thorough training in music theory, a wide acquaintance with the appropriate musical literature acquired both through performance and analysis, and as much general education as a full program of professional study will permit. The special requirements of the various major fields of study are stated in the sections below, but exacting standards of musicianship are required of all and must be met before the degree is voted by the Faculty Council.

Requirements for Admission

1. A diploma from an accredited high school or preparatory school. High school graduation is assumed to include fifteen units of study, of which three must be in English, two in a foreign language, one in mathematics, one in science or history, and eight in electives. Of these elective units, five must be academic. Any deficiency in high school credits must be made up during the first year of the degree course.

2. An official transcript of the secondary school record and a recommendation from the principal or headmaster.

3. An audition in which the student must demonstrate musical achievement as defined below in his major field.

PIANO: A composition by Bach (a Prelude and Fugue or a movement from a Suite or Partita); a first movement of a Sonata by Haydn, Mozart or Beethoven; and a composition of the romantic or modern schools. At least one number must be played from memory.

VOICE: A selection from the early Italian anthology or from Mozart; an aria or song sung in French or Italian; a song in English.

ORGAN: Keyboard facility equivalent to Piano 4*; a composition by Bach, such as one of the Eight Little Preludes and Fugues; one romantic work; one modern work.

VIOLIN: Scales, arpeggios and the first movement of a Concerto by Bach or Mozart, or a Sonata by Corelli, Handel or Mozart.

VIOLA: Scales, arpeggios and a movement from a Suite for violoncello by Bach, or from the Concerto in B minor by Handel.

VIOLONCELLO: Scales, arpeggios and a movement from a Suite by Bach or a Sonata by Handel or Sammartini.

CONTRABASS: Scales, arpeggios and a movement from a Suite for violoncello transcribed for contrabass.

WOODWIND INSTRUMENTS: Performance of a composition of moderate difficulty, such as a Sonata movement or concert piece; major and minor scales and a chromatic scale covering the complete range of the instrument.

BRASS INSTRUMENTS: Performance of a composition of moderate difficulty; major, minor and chromatic scales articulated and slurred.

PERCUSSION AND TYMPANI: An understanding of the fundamental snare drum rudiments and their application to the band and orchestral literature. A basic technical knowledge of the mallet instruments and ability to perform elementary studies for the tympani. Keyboard facility at the piano equivalent to Piano 5*.

CHURCH MUSIC — GREGORIAN CHANT: The same requirements as for Organ or for Voice.

MUSIC THEORY: The equivalent of Piano 4*; superior achievement on the entrance test in Music Fundamentals (see p. 18).

MUSIC THEORY AND ARRANGING: The equivalent of Piano 4*; superior achievement on the entrance test in Music Fundamentals (see p. 18); some practical experience in scoring, at least for dance-band; a fair knowledge of keyboard harmony; familiarity with simple classical music literature as well as traditional popular songs and piano music.

MUSIC COMPOSITION: The equivalent of Piano 4*; special aptitude in composition as shown by original work.

* See Appendix.

MUSIC EDUCATION: Proficiency in major instrument sufficient to warrant expectation of meeting performance requirements at graduation; an acquaintance with piano representing the equivalent of one year's study.

MUSIC THERAPY: An acquaintance with piano and at least one other instrument, representing the equivalent of one year's study of each. Experience in orchestral and choral work in high school or the community at large is desirable but not required. A candidate who has taken courses in general science, biology or chemistry will be given preference.

Preliminary Course

Students who wish to enter the course leading to a Bachelor of Music degree but who lack the required preparation may, upon recommendation of the Examining Board, be admitted to the Preliminary Course. This is a one-year course which provides intensive drill in the fundamentals of music as well as technical training in a major instrument and, where needed, additional preparation in academic subjects. A weekly minimum of one hour of private instruction in the major instrument will be required. The curriculum with credits granted is as follows:

Major	8
Piano (Supplementary) <sup>1</sup>	2
Fundamentals of Music	6
Humanities I	6
Music Literature I	6
Elective	4

Requirements for Admission to Advanced Standing

A student who has previously completed part of the requirements for the Bachelor's Degree may make application to the Dean for advanced standing. Credit in academic subjects and in music literature will be granted on receipt of a transcript from an accredited college. Credit in music theory is subject to examination. The Dean will give full credit for courses taken at the New England Conservatory by a special student during a period not to exceed five years prior to application for admission to the degree course. A candidate for the Bachelor's degree must complete the final thirty credits of the course at the New England Conservatory.

Requirements for Promotion

At the end of each of the first three years the student must demonstrate satisfactory progress in his major study before a panel authorized by the Faculty Council. Such progress involves not only technical proficiency but an increase both in quantity and complexity of works studied. A satisfactory audition together with successful completion of the year's curriculum constitute the basis of promotion from one year to the next.

Requirements for Graduation

In addition to the satisfactory completion of the required curriculum, a student must fulfill the following special requirements in his major subject:

PIANO: A creditable public recital to be given not later than May first of the senior year; performance of a movement of a concerto with orchestra; the study of a comprehensive repertoire of solo works, and at least one concerto each of the classic, romantic and modern periods.

ORGAN, VOICE, VIOLIN, VIOLA, VIOLONCELLO or FLUTE: The study of a comprehensive repertoire; a creditable public recital to be given not later than May first of the senior year; performance of an approved work with the Conservatory Orchestra.

ENSEMBLE: The study of a comprehensive repertoire of advanced chamber music literature; participation in a public recital.

ORCHESTRAL TRAINING: The study of a comprehensive repertoire for the instrument and intensive training in orchestral playing; participation in recitals of ensemble music; a satisfactory audition before the Faculty Council in May of the senior year.

CHURCH MUSIC — GREGORIAN CHANT: The same comprehensive repertoire as required for Organ or Voice, and an audition before the Faculty Council.

COMPOSITION: Original compositions, the manuscripts to be submitted to the President on or before May first, as follows:

1. A motet in three or more parts to Latin words.
2. A short choral work in four or more parts to English words.
3. A two-part invention.
4. A four-voice fugue for piano, organ, wind or stringed instruments.
5. A complete work for piano or for piano and other instruments, or for quartet or quintet of strings or wind instruments, in three or more movements, showing a grasp of constructive principles in the more extended forms.
6. A work for full orchestra, requiring not less than ten minutes for performance.
7. Four works of smaller dimensions, for a variety of media, which are free in form but which demonstrate fine workmanship and real constructive skill.

MUSIC THEORY: Demonstration of proficiency in ensemble or orchestral conducting; original compositions, the manuscripts to be submitted to the President on or before May first, as follows:

1. A motet in three or more parts with Latin text.
2. A short choral work in four or more parts with English text.
3. A two-part invention.
4. A three- or four-voice fugue for piano or organ.
5. A movement in sonata form for piano, or for piano and one other instrument, showing a grasp of the constructive principles of the Viennese classical sonata. (So-called contemporary styles are not acceptable in this category.)

MUSIC THEORY AND ARRANGING: Demonstration of proficiency in ensemble or orchestral conducting; original compositions, the manuscripts to be submitted to the President on or before May first as follows:

1. A short choral work in four or more parts with English text.
2. A three- or four-voice fugue for piano or organ.
3. A movement in sonata form for piano, or for piano and one other instrument, showing a grasp of the constructive principles of the Viennese classical sonata. (So-called contemporary styles are not acceptable in this category.)
4. An arrangement for dance-band designed as a vocal accompaniment.
5. An arrangement for large-size microphone orchestra, perhaps featuring a solo instrument.
6. A score for symphony orchestra based on a popular theme.

MUSIC EDUCATION: A high level of performance ability in the major instrument; the competence in piano necessary for classroom teaching; ability to sing accurately and with taste; some competence in one orchestral instrument. These requirements are in addition to the work of the instrumental classes and will be tested by a panel appointed by the Faculty Council.

MUSIC THERAPY: The student will be examined by the Faculty Council in the following: 1. PIANO – Ability to play piano accompaniments, to transpose at sight, and to show command of keyboard harmony and improvisation sufficient to play for spontaneous group singing. 2. VOICE – Ability to sing acceptably for demonstration purposes. 3. SUPPLEMENTARY INSTRUMENT – Ability to perform with greater facility than that required in instrumental classes. — In addition, the student should be able to lead community sings, organize and conduct choral and orchestral ensembles, teach voice and one or more instruments including piano, and engender in others a desire to make music.

A minimum of 1000 hours of clinical training is required before the degree will be granted. 300 hours will be fulfilled by the curriculum, while 700 must be met by actual intern residence in an approved hospital. During residence, the hospital will furnish room, board, instruction, and training, so that the student will have only personal expenses to meet.

PROCEDURE FOR ADMISSION AND REGISTRATION

Candidates for admission to the New England Conservatory of Music should write to the Dean, requesting an application blank and stating whether they desire to register as a candidate for the Bachelor's Degree, Master's Degree, Artist's Diploma, Certificate in Popular Music or as a Special Student.<sup>1</sup> If the candidate plans to apply for a scholarship, he should request a form for that purpose at the same time. Scholarships are available for a number of regularly enrolled entering students; those interested are referred to the section of this catalogue dealing with scholarships.

After receipt of the application blank and supporting documents, but not prior to the first of the calendar year, the Admission Board will evaluate the student's application and the applicant will be notified in writing of his status. Final acceptance of an applicant is subject to a satisfactory audition in the field of his major musical interest. Auditions are held at the Conservatory on the second Saturday in May and also during the week preceding the opening of the fall term. Applications for the spring auditions must be received not later than April 10; for the September auditions, not later than August 15. If requested, the Dean will try to arrange a local audition, under the auspices of the New England Conservatory, for students living at an excessive distance from Boston.

All new students will be required to attend Orientation Week, which immediately precedes the opening of the fall term. During the week, the remaining auditions and these placement examinations will be held to assure the student's assignment to the proper classes:

A standard classification test.

Achievement tests in English prepared by the Cooperative.

Test Service of the American Council on Education.

A test in the Fundamentals of Music.

Information regarding the content of these examinations will be included with the initial letter of acceptance.

Orientation Week also affords opportunity for the students to meet the President, Deans, and other officers, to take advantage of planned sight-seeing tours, and to enjoy social activities with their classmates. Registration will be completed as soon as the results of the examinations are known, but not later than Friday of Orientation Week.

CURRICULA LEADING TO THE DEGREE OF BACHELOR OF MUSIC

The term "Supplementary" means one-half hour of private instruction per week. The numbers at the extreme right of the course name represent the number of credits granted for the course. Each credit (exclusive of applied music and other private instruction) represents one hour per week of class work for one semester. Thus six credits represent three hours of classes per week for two semesters.

GRADUATE DEPARTMENT

MASTER OF MUSIC DEGREE

Admission to the Graduate Department will be granted to applicants who hold a Bachelor's degree in music from a college or music school of recognized standing, who satisfy the entrance requirements as stated below, and who present evidence of capacity for successful advanced study.

Qualified students holding the Bachelor's degree in a field other than music, or those whose course record does not meet the requirements for the Conservatory's Bachelor of Music Degree, will be permitted to make up deficiencies at the Conservatory in a Pre-Master's course.

Students admitted to the Graduate Course may concentrate in applied music, applied music pedagogy, music education, historical research, music theory, or composition, and a limited number of applicants will be accepted for graduate study in opera direction. In addition to the major subject, graduate students will be required to pursue courses approved by the Faculty Council carrying a total of at least sixteen credits. Under ordinary circumstances the course leading to the Master's degree will require two years of intensive work at the Conservatory. Requirements for the degree must be met in full within five years of matriculation.

All graduate work required for the Master's degree must be pursued at the Conservatory. No courses taken prior to admission to the Graduate Department of the New England Conservatory can be credited toward the Master's degree.

Requirements for Admission

The course which the candidate has pursued for his Bachelor's degree must have been equivalent to the course prescribed by this Conservatory for the Bachelor of Music degree in the proposed major subject as regards (a) the subjects pursued and their degree of advancement; (b) the approximate proportion of music subjects to academic work; and (c) the total number of credits.

Only tentative admission to the Graduate Course is granted on the basis of documents. Final admission depends on a satisfactory audition or interview with the Faculty Council as described below for each of the courses of study:

APPLIED MUSIC – APPLIED MUSIC PEDAGOGY: Candidates will have an audition before the Faculty Council, the time to be assigned by the President's office. The audition must indicate achievement both in technique and repertoire equivalent to the graduation standard for the Bachelor's degree of this Conservatory and must give promise of substantial development beyond that standard.

CHURCH MUSIC: The same requirements as for Applied Music.

HISTORICAL RESEARCH – MUSIC EDUCATION: Candidates will present their plans to the Faculty Council in an interview, the time to be assigned by the President's office. Not less than one week before this interview, candidates will file with the President a brief statement of their plans, typewritten and in triplicate.

MUSIC THEORY – COMPOSITION: Comprehensive examinations will be required of candidates entering the Conservatory from other schools or colleges.

OPERA DIRECTION: Candidates must offer as prerequisites languages, advanced piano and advanced conducting. They must also show general aptitude for this type of study.

Curriculum

In addition to a major study which will carry a total of 16 credits, the candidate must take four other graduate courses of four credits each, three of which must be in musical subjects. Applied Music, if of approved grade, may be chosen by students majoring in other fields as one of these three courses. Each student will develop a plan of study in consultation with the chairman of the department in which he is majoring, and with the approval of the Faculty Council will choose such minor subjects as are best suited to his professional purposes.

All departments offer courses, numbered 21 or over, especially for graduate credit. In addition the following advanced courses are approved for graduate credit provided they have not been included in the candidate's course leading to the Bachelor's degree:

Music Literature 11. Contemporary Music.

Music Literature 14. Music Form.

Theory 11. Third Year Solfege.

Theory 12. Third Year Harmony.

Humanities 12. Literature of the Western World.

Psychology 13. Educational Psychology.

Choir Training.

Opera 2.

Other courses of appropriate grade and nature may also be approved at the discretion of the Faculty Council.

Requirements for the Master's Degree

The Master of Music degree will be conferred by the Conservatory upon students who are recommended by the Faculty Council after completion of the requirements in one of the following majors. All courses must be completed with a grade not lower than B.

APPLIED MUSIC (Piano, Organ, Voice, Violin, Viola, Violoncello and Flute): The student must fulfill requirements in repertoire considerably in advance of those prescribed for the Bachelor of Music degree. He must present a recital program<sup>1</sup> containing major works, both classical and modern, and he must perform a concerto or its equivalent with the Conservatory Orchestra.

In addition to the major curriculum, not less than four full courses will be required, at least three of which must be in music subjects.

16 credits

APPLIED MUSIC PEDAGOGY (Piano, Organ, Voice, Violin, Viola, Violoncello and Flute): Candidates who desire to major in Pedagogy must have shown superior aptitude in this field during the first year of study. Admission to the course will depend upon a Faculty Council audition at the end of the first year. Requirements will be the same as those for a Master's degree in Applied Music, but during the second year special emphasis will be placed upon teaching observation and teaching materials. A recital will be required as described above under Applied Music.

In addition to the major curriculum, not less than four full courses will be required, at least three of which must be in music subjects.

16 credits

APPLIED MUSIC (Oboe, Clarinet, Bassoon, Horn, Trumpet, Trombone, Contrabass, Harp, and Percussion): The student must fulfill instrumental requirements considerably in advance of those prescribed for the Bachelor of Music degree. In addition to presenting an approved recital program<sup>1</sup>, solo and ensemble, he must arrange a score of an approved work (classical or contemporary) for solo instrument and chamber orchestra to be performed as one of the numbers at the required recital.

<sup>1</sup> A typewritten copy of the program is to be submitted to the President for approval at least three weeks before the recital date.

In addition to the major curriculum, not less than four other full courses will be required, at least three of which must be in music subjects. An advanced course in Instrumentation is required as one of the music subjects. 16 credits

CHURCH MUSIC: A candidate will major in Organ or in Voice (8 credits the first year, 4 credits the second); and will take one-half hour per week of private instruction in the other for one year (4 credits). 16 credits

During the final semester, the candidate will present a project in the performance of liturgical or other religious music. 4 credits

In addition, Conducting 21 (Advanced Choral Conducting) and two elective courses will be required. 12 credits

MUSIC EDUCATION: The student will undertake a special project related to his own professional purpose. This project will be carried out in a Music Education Seminar or in private work with the Department Chairman. A final conference with the Faculty Council will be required. 6 credits

The remainder of the major curriculum will consist of two seminars, Music Education 21 (Supervision) and Music Education 22 (Instrumental Music in the Schools). 10 credits

In addition to the major curriculum, not less than four full courses will be required, of which two must be in applied music. 16 credits

HISTORICAL RESEARCH: The student must present an acceptable thesis on an approved subject. Work on the thesis will be undertaken in conjunction with a conference course under the Department Chairman. The completed manuscript must be presented to the Dean of Graduate Students by April 1 and the thesis in final form, typed and bound according to specifications, must be submitted to the Faculty Council not later than May 1 of the academic year in which the student is a candidate for graduation. A final conference with the Faculty Council will be required. 16 credits

In addition to the major curriculum, not less than four other full courses will be required, of which at least three must be in music subjects. 16 credits

MUSIC THEORY: Private conference study of classical styles of composition will be required and the student must demonstrate his ability to handle a variety of materials in the basic forms used in the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries. 10 credits

The student will also be required to take a course in the Pedagogy of Music Theory. This course includes a discussion of methods of teaching solfege, harmony, counterpoint, form, and instrumentation as well as a discussion of texts, plan of work, and classroom technique. Opportunities for observation of teaching methods will be provided. 6 credits

In addition to work in the major field, the candidate will be required to continue his previous work in applied music, or to do further work with a supplementary instrument or with an ensemble group (8 credits) and to take 8 credits from among the following courses:

Theory 12	4	German 21	4
Theory 21	4	Italian 21	4
Music Literature 11	4	Humanities 22	4
French 21	4		16 credits

A comprehensive examination, written or oral, or both, covering a wide range of musicianship will be given toward the close of the final period of study.

COMPOSITION: The student must present, not later than May 1 of the academic year in which he is a candidate for the degree, any one of the following original works which shall have been composed subsequent to his admission to the graduate course:

A work for orchestra; or

A composition for chorus with orchestral accompaniment; or,

A work of chamber music for two or more instruments, or for chamber orchestra.

In quality and workmanship these compositions must show evidence of distinct talent for composition, and of mature technical training. The composition submitted shall require at least fifteen minutes for performance. 16 credits

In addition to the major curriculum, not less than four other full courses will be required, of which at least three must be in music subjects. 16 credits

Application for Graduate Admission

Application for admission should be submitted to the President, together with an official transcript of the candidate's college record, not later than August 1. Application forms will be provided by the Conservatory upon request.

ARTIST'S DIPLOMA

The Artist's Diploma course is open only to graduate students of exceptional ability in Piano, Organ, Voice, Violin, Violoncello, or Flute who possess the artistic and personal qualifications for a successful career.

Candidates must have the Bachelor of Music degree or its equivalent and must demonstrate their musical achievement before the Faculty Council. After being admitted as candidates they must pursue their major study intensively for two years as well as any related musical studies which the Faculty Council may require. They must give a complete public recital at the Conservatory in each academic year together with such other public appearances as may be approved.

The Jordan Hall recital during the second semester of the final year will be considered the final audition, and the diploma will be authorized by the Faculty Council on the basis of this recital.

Application for admission should be submitted to the President, together with an official transcript of the candidate's college record, not later than August 1. Application forms will be provided by the Conservatory upon request.

DESCRIPTION OF COURSES

I. APPLIED MUSIC

Note: Courses numbered from 1 through 10 are designed primarily for undergraduates; from 11 through 20, for undergraduates and graduates; and over 20, primarily for graduate students.

The Appendix contains a complete outline of grades of accomplishment in applied music below the college level.

PIANO

PIANO 7-8. Private instruction in technique and repertoire.

Each, 8 credits

PIANO 9-10. Private instruction in technique and repertoire.

Each, 12 credits

PIANO SIGHT PLAYING. See page 44.

PIANO 15. Piano Literature. A survey of piano literature, primarily for undergraduates. Problems of interpretation are discussed as they are related to a wide variety of styles, and many illustrations are given at the piano.

2 credits

PIANO 16. Piano Methods. The organization of piano instruction: principles, steps and materials. The course is designed to provide the student with a sound basis for the formulation of teaching methods. It analyzes the chief contributions of the past to piano methods, and lists the source materials for present-day procedures.

2 credits

PIANO 17. Piano Performance Class. A class which offers the advanced piano student the experience of observing and performing prepared repertoire under skilled guidance.

4 credits

PIANO 18. Piano Accompaniment. A practical training for advanced piano students in the art of accompanying vocal music (songs, operas, and oratorios). Students will prepare classical and modern repertoire in cooperation with voice students, with consideration given to related problems.

4 credits

ORGAN

ORGAN 1-2. Private instruction in technique and repertoire.

Each, 8 credits

ORGAN 3-4. Private instruction in technique and repertoire.

Each, 12 credits

ORGAN 21. Carillon-Playing. Instruction and practice on a stand-ard carillon keyboard.

2 credits

ORCHESTRAL INSTRUMENTS

Students who major in one of the orchestral instruments will pursue their major study through private instruction in the appropriate courses as named and numbered below.

HARP

HARP 5-6. Private instruction in technique and repertoire.
Each, 8 credits

HARP 7-8. Private instruction in technique and repertoire.
Each, 12 credits

STRINGS

VIOLIN 7-8, VIOLA 7-8, VIOLONCELLO 7-8, CONTRABASS 5-6.
Each, 8 credits

VIOLIN 9-10, VIOLA 9-10, VIOLONCELLO 9-10, CONTRABASS 7-8.
Each, 12 credits

WOODWINDS

FLUTE 5-6, OBOE 5-6, CLARINET 5-6, BASSOON 5-6.
Each, 8 credits

FLUTE 7-8, OBOE 7-8, CLARINET 7-8, BASSOON 7-8.
Each, 12 credits

BRASS

HORN 5-6, TRUMPET 5-6, TROMBONE 5-6. Each, 8 credits

HORN 7-8, TRUMPET 7-8, TROMBONE 7-8. Each, 12 credits

PERCUSSION

PERCUSSION 5-6. Each, 8 credits

VOICE

The applicant must show sufficient promise of both vocal and musical development to insure meeting all requirements for graduation. The curriculum is designed to give the student a thorough understanding of the voice and its management, a mastery of breathing and breath-control through the correct method of vocalization, as well as an appreciation of representative vocal styles, and the ability to perform in a musicianly manner an extensive repertoire of Italian, French, English and German vocal music, both sacred and secular.

VOICE 1. The vocal instrument with attention to correct breathing (breath-control and coordinated management of the diaphragm and resonance chambers). The student must give satisfactory evidence of the ability to apply to beautiful tone quality the principles of correct vocalization through technical exercises, studies, and songs from the early classics. Suitable English songs and French bergerettes may be employed as the teacher sees fit. 8 credits

VOICE 2. More advanced vocal technique such as messa di voce, mezzo voce, agility, and ornamentation such as trill, acciaccatura, appoggiatura, etc. Among others such works as vocalises by Panofka 81, Lütgen, Concone 15 or the like may be used, as may selections from the compositions of Bach, Gluck, Mozart, Haydn, Rossini and Handel, to bring into play this advanced technique. The candidate must prepare a repertoire of songs from the Italian, French, German and English song literature. 8 credits

VOICE 3. An increase in the foregoing repertoire; the addition of works of greater technical and musical requirements; the preparation of selections from two or more oratorios of Handel, Bach, Haydn or Mendelssohn; also such arias and ensemble selections from the operas of Italian, French or German composers as may seem suitable. 12 credits

VOICE 4. Vocal method and improvement. Advanced repertoire study in the field of the art song in German, Italian, French and English — and if the student has aptitude for the operatic repertoire, the preparation of at least one complete operatic role. 12 credits

Repertoire Coaching

VOICE 11. Preparation of voice students to sing opera roles, lieder, and the general song literature. Classes are limited to eight students, each of whom receives individual coaching as well as the valuable experience of observing the work of others in the class. 4 credits

VOICE 12. A continuation of Voice 11. 4 credits

II. OPERA DEPARTMENT

The aim of the Opera Department is two-fold: to train singers for the operatic stage, and to prepare students for future operatic leadership through practical instruction in coaching, conducting, stage direction, repertoire, and all other phases of operatic production.

OPERA 1. Preparatory Opera Class. The study of repertoire with emphasis on pantomimic representations of operatic scenes. Students of this class will have the privilege of attending sessions of the Advanced Class, as auditors. 4 credits

OPERA 2. Advanced Opera Class. A practical course of training for the operatic stage: repertoire, dramatics, diction, etc. Recitals of scenes from operas will be given at regular intervals. Members of the class will participate in occasional public performances of complete operas. 6 credits

OPERA 10. The History of Operatic Traditions. Mr. Goldovsky will offer a weekly lecture course on the history of operatic traditions. All students in the Opera Department will be required to attend this course, for which they will pay an additional fee. The

OPERA 20. Advanced Opera Performance. at the Special No credit

OPERA 21. Coaching and Conducting. A thorough study of the standard operatic repertoire with emphasis on tempo determination as well as traditions and styles of performance and problems of organization. 8 credits

OPERA 22. Stage Direction. A practical study of mise-en-scène, combined with work in scenic construction, lighting, costuming and make-up. 4 credits

Members of the Opera 21 and Opera 22 classes will be required to stage and/or conduct one or more opera scenes, and to offer assistance in the productions of the Opera Department.

III. ENSEMBLE MUSIC

A. PERFORMANCE

CHAMBER MUSIC 1. Brass Ensemble. The performance of representative passages for brass instruments in the literature of the orchestra. Exactitude of intonation, rhythmic precision, and proper methods of attack are stressed. The group covers a selection of the literature for orchestra, both classic and modern. Works which are being prepared for public performance by the Conservatory Orchestra are given particular preparation. Compositions for brass ensembles are studied and given performance. 2 credits

CHAMBER MUSIC 2. Woodwind Ensemble. Rehearsal and performance of trios, quartets and quintets in class, with particular attention to phrasing, balance, precision of attack, and rhythmic exactitude. 2 credits

CHAMBER MUSIC 3. String Quartet. The study of a large representation of the literature for string quartet, including works by Dittersdorf, Haydn, Mozart, Beethoven, Brahms, Schumann, Schubert, Debussy, Ravel, and contemporary composers. Works for larger combinations: quintets, sextets, octets, etc., are also studied. The problems of intonation in ensemble and the techniques of bowing and of effective fingering are discussed in connection with the actual literature. 2 credits

CHAMBER MUSIC 11. String Quartet. A continuation of Chamber Music 3. 2 credits

CHAMBER MUSIC 12. Advanced Woodwind Ensemble. 4 credits

CHORUS. The rehearsals of the New England Conservatory Chorus give detailed attention to the fundamental principles of the choral art and discipline, including accuracy of reading, clarity of diction, sensitivity to the ensemble, and elasticity of expression.

In a number of concerts throughout the year, the Chorus with soloists chosen from the Conservatory, performs some of the great church music, secular choruses, and part songs extending from medieval to modern times. 2 credits

OPERA. See pages 41 and 42.

ORCHESTRA. Members of the New England Conservatory Orchestra receive thorough training in the standard repertoire of symphonic literature, both classical and modern. Particular stress is placed on orchestral precision, interpretation, and style of performance. The Orchestra gives a number of concerts each year, at which members of the faculty and advanced students frequently appear as soloists. 2 credits

B. PRACTICE AND DRILL

CHOIR ENSEMBLE. The study and singing of complete services for various types of churches. Latin masses, offices and benedictions. Anglican choral services. Motets and anthems for Protestant church worship. 2 credits

CHORAL PRACTICE. A course in choral technique and interpretation and an exploration of choral literature of various periods and styles. Principles of choral training and conducting are exemplified. Students of choral conducting are given an opportunity for practical experience. The repertoire is varied from year to year so that the course covers a considerable range during a given student's attendance. 2 credits

CHOIR TRAINING. Choir organization and training under differing conditions in both liturgical and non-liturgical churches. Choir-room technique. Choral conducting and methods of rehearsing. Choir repertoire and program building. 4 credits

ENSEMBLE 1. Study of the classic and the modern repertoire of chamber music for piano and stringed or woodwind instruments, including sonatas, trios, quartets, and works for larger combinations. Each class comprises six piano students in addition to students of stringed and woodwind instruments. 2 credits

ENSEMBLE 2. A continuation of Ensemble 1.

One semester, 1 credit

ENSEMBLE 3. Ensemble for Two Pianos. Study of the literature for two pianos from the 18th century to the present by playing and discussion. The principles of dynamics, tempo and balance.

One semester, 1 credit

ENSEMBLE 21. A course available to graduate or advanced students in piano and stringed instruments for the study and performance of examples chosen from the important chamber music literature. Sonatas, trios, quartets, and quintets representing various periods and styles will be included in the course. 4 credits

ORCHESTRA CLASS. Fundamentals of orchestral training; accuracy, precision, ensemble; tuning, intonation, tone control; study of representative orchestral works of various periods so far as the instrumentation of the class permits; experience in playing under various conductors; accompaniment of student soloists; reading of student compositions. Students of orchestral conducting are given an opportunity for practical experience. 2 credits

ORCHESTRAL DRILL. All students with concentration in Orchestral Training will receive intensive section drill in advanced orchestral literature, working out difficult passages and deciding on definite types of bowing and phrasing, so that the student gains a sufficient familiarity with the work to know its problems and to be able to solve them. Most of the works studied in this drill will be rehearsed by the full Orchestra. 4 credits

PIANO SIGHT-PLAYING. A course designed to teach a student to read with accuracy and musical understanding. Extreme accuracy is demanded in rhythm. Students are taken through a considerable repertoire of music for piano alone and for two pianos, and are given numerous guides to the technique of sight-playing. 2 credits

C. CONDUCTING

CONDUCTING 1a. Basic Conducting. Fundamentals of the technique of conducting both with and without the baton. Elementary score reading. 2 credits

CONDUCTING 1b. Choral Conducting. (For voice majors.) A course in the fundamentals of choral conducting which acquaints the student with the best technique, rehearsal procedure, and programming, as well as with basic problems of organization of school and community choruses and church choirs. One semester, 1 credit

CONDUCTING 2. Choral Conducting. A study of the problems of handling the chorus; score study, including reading from open score with all clefs, conductor's analysis and problems of mastery; development of repertoire, various styles; procedures for developing excellence in choral technique and interpretation; problems of rehearsal and performance. Regular attendance at Choral Practice is required of all students in the course. Well-prepared students are given opportunity to accompany and to conduct the Chorus in rehearsals. 2 credits

CONDUCTING 3. Orchestral Conducting. The technique of orchestral conducting in all its aspects, with particular emphasis on problems connected with the organization and training of the amateur orchestra in general and the school orchestra in particular. Score reading and preparation; program and rehearsal planning; interpretation; repertoire. Each student will obtain practical experience in conducting during rehearsals of Orchestra Class. 2 credits

Music Education majors, 4 credits

CONDUCTING 11. First year Chironomy. The gesture. Arsis and thesis. Elementary pieces. 2 credits

CONDUCTING 12. Second year Chironomy. Modification of gesture; interpolation of elementary rhythm and subdivision. The use of chironomy in psalmody. Survey of repertoire. 2 credits

CONDUCTING 21. Advanced Choral Conducting. A specialized study of choral conducting with particular emphasis on advanced beat technique, rehearsal problems, and sacred and secular choral repertoire for radio chorus, madrigal group, and advanced college and community choruses. Students in this course will have the opportunity of conducting practice in Theory 11a as well as the Chorus. Participation in Choral Practice is required. 4 credits

CONDUCTING 22. Advanced Orchestral Conducting. Private instruction in orchestral repertoire, rehearsal technique, advanced conducting techniques, score reading and use of all clefs. Open to specially qualified students. 4 credits

CONDUCTING 23. Graduate Solfege. A survey of orchestral and choral conducting. For graduate students only. 4 credits

IV. HISTORY AND LITERATURE OF MUSIC

MUSIC LITERATURE 1. Introduction to Music Literature. An introduction to symphonic, choral and chamber music through the medium of fine recordings. Complete performances of representative works from the Renaissance through Impressionism. Analysis of form, techniques, instruments, and historical and cultural backgrounds. Outside reading required. 6 credits

MUSIC LITERATURE 2. Music History. A general survey of the progress of music from its primitive beginnings to the complicated tonal structures of the present day, and the analysis, discussion, and illustration of all forms of musical composition by means of phonograph records or by actual performance. Supplementary reading and reports are required. 4 credits

MUSIC LITERATURE 3. Gothic, Renaissance, and Baroque Music. The period from the beginnings of polyphony (c. A.D. 850) to the death of Bach and the end of the baroque era; historical data for each important epoch or composer. Examples are played, analyzed and discussed in detail. 4 credits

MUSIC LITERATURE 4. Classic and Romantic Music. Application of the method of Music Literature 3 to the classic and romantic eras. 4 credits

MUSIC LITERATURE 11. Contemporary Music. A study of recent tendencies in music and their relationship to the music of the past. This course will deal not only with harmonic, but also with some of the melodic, rhythmic and structural features of twentieth century European and American music. 4 credits

MUSIC LITERATURE 12. Choral and Operatic Literature. Choral works from Palestrina to Berlioz and operas from Monteverdi to Debussy will be sung and played in the original languages and from full score by a small class of advanced students. Proper attention will be given to analysis but greater emphasis will be placed upon participation in the experience of performing as many great works as can be studied adequately. 4 credits

MUSIC LITERATURE 13. Liturgical Music. A brief study of the liturgy of the western church. The Gregorian chant, its modes, notation, rhythm and rendition; polyphonic settings of liturgical texts; the pronunciation of church Latin; the plainsong of the Anglican liturgy; psalmody; liturgical hymns; liturgical trends in Protestant worship-music. 4 credits

MUSIC LITERATURE 14. Music Form. An advanced course in the structure of the larger forms found in both chamber music and orchestral compositions. The works are studied from many standpoints, both detailed and general, including phrase structure, tonal balance, rhythmic devices, dynamic line and general formal problems. 4 credits

MUSIC LITERATURE 15. Modal Analysis. The origin and structure of Gregorian modes and their use in the repertoire. Synthesis of modal composition in selected pieces. 4 credits

MUSIC LITERATURE 21. Renaissance and Baroque Seminar. A seminar on the music of the period from 1400 to 1700. Examples are studied and when practicable performed by members of the class. 4 credits

MUSIC LITERATURE 22. Music Criticism. While designed for those who wish to enter the field of musical journalism, this course is adapted to the needs of those who wish merely to obtain a deeper insight into the aesthetics of music. The first few lectures are devoted to a discussion of the problems of criticism. Later the students are required to submit for class discussion reviews of current concerts and papers on general musical topics. 4 credits

V. THEORY AND COMPOSITION

FUNDAMENTALS OF MUSIC. A preliminary course designed to acquaint beginning students with the elements of music. Particular emphasis is placed upon vocal and keyboard demonstrations of all materials.

This course is required of incoming students who fail to pass an examination in the fundamentals of music. 6 credits

THEORY 1. First year Solfege. The singing and auralization of rhythmic, intervallic, melodic, and simple chordal and contrapuntal materials and their notation on the staff, using treble and bass clefs. Special emphasis is placed on intonation and the position of these materials in the major and minor tonalities. Melodic modulation to closely related keys in both sight-singing and dictation. 4 credits

THEORY 2. First year Harmony. A study of the materials of diatonic harmony and simple modulation, with emphasis on both keyboard work and the analysis of a wide range of selections from standard literature. The materials include not only all diatonic triads and seventh chords, but also some of the simpler chromatic chords.

6 credits

THEORY 3a. Second year Solfege. A continuation of Theory 1. More advanced material and the use of additional clefs. Remote modulation. The auralization of chords of the seventh and their inversions. Advanced harmonic, melodic, and contrapuntal dictation.

4 credits

THEORY 3b. Second year Solfege and Basic Conducting. (For Music Education and Music Therapy majors). A continuation of Theory 1. Increasing difficulty of materials with emphasis on the use of the "movable do" system. Fundamentals of the technique of conducting and elementary score reading.

4 credits

THEORY 3c. Second year Solfege for Orchestral Majors. A continuation of Theory 1 with direct application to the major instrument.

4 credits

THEORY 4. Second year Harmony. An extension of the technique of Theory 2, with the addition of all the more important chromatic devices employed by the nineteenth-century romantic composers, some of whose works are analyzed in detail.

6 credits

THEORY 5. First year Counterpoint. (Prerequisite: Theory 2). The first semester's work is largely concerned with "harmonic counterpoint," that is, the evolution of melodic lines from a preconceived harmonic pattern. There is an extensive study of the Bach figured chorale, followed by the more elaborate treatment in the organ chorale preludes. In the second semester the work is extended to cover the style of the Viennese classical masters, with writing for string trio and quartet as well as other small instrumental combinations.

4 credits

THEORY 6. Instrumentation. A study of the important instrumental groupings found in contemporary music practice, such as the school orchestra, band, and symphony orchestra. The function and characteristics of each type of instrument within these groups will be considered, as well as the role which each group plays in the current American scene. Problems of range, transposition, timbre and tonal balance will be discussed in each case and various types of scoring attempted. As often as possible, experienced players will demonstrate each instrument.

4 credits

THEORY 11a. Third year Solfege for Voice Majors. A continuation of Theory 3 in which the results of the student's work during the first and second years are applied directly to the major field. The material includes motets, madrigals and other choral music.

4 credits

THEORY 11b. Third year Solfege for Piano, Organ, Theory and Composition Majors. Elementary keyboard improvisation in the smaller forms.

4 credits

THEORY 11c. Third year Solfege for Orchestral Majors. Instrumental playing of solfege exercises. Training in rhythm, pitch, dynamics and flexibility. Transposition when required on some instruments, such as Horn and Trumpet.

4 credits

THEORY 12. Third year Harmony. A study of contemporary harmonic idioms; analysis of the work of outstanding twentieth-century composers; harmonic paraphrases written by the student to illustrate some of the procedures.

4 credits

THEORY 13. Second year Counterpoint. First semester: A study of contrapuntal devices, especially as applied to instrumental music; imitation of all kinds, including canon, invertible counterpoint and the writing of two and three-part inventions.

Second semester: Fugue writing: subject, answer and counter-subject; construction of episodes; stretto. The plan of a fugue as a whole; analysis and writing of fugues in two, three and four voices.

4 credits

THEORY 14. Advanced Instrumentation. A study of styles in instrumentation from Haydn to the present day. Various projects are assigned, including the orchestration of keyboard music or of original material composed by the student.

4 credits

THEORY 15. First year Gregorian Chant. Study of neumatic notation, fundamental rhythmic, modal structure, rhythm, psalmody. Practice reading; introduction to style. Presupposes facility at sight reading equivalent to Theory 1.

2 credits

THEORY 16. Second year Gregorian Chant. Development of rhythmic studies through the synthesis of the melodic incise. Complete study of all the simple psalm tones and their application, by memory, to unpointed texts. Practical reading.

4 credits

THEORY 17. Third year Gregorian Chant. Study of the subtleties and implications of the text rhythm; conjunction of melody and text and the resolution of conflicts; synthesis of the entire Gregorian phrase; ornate psalmody; the canticles; practical reading.

4 credits

THEORY 21. Third year Counterpoint. An inquiry into the fundamental nature of counterpoint, both apart from and along with its manifestations in various periods; and a study of the styles of the 16th, 18th, and 20th centuries. 4 credits

THEORY 22. Pedagogy of Music Theory. A survey of the materials and methods of teaching solfege, harmony, counterpoint and form. A discussion of classroom techniques, reports on the more important texts, and, for Theory majors, observation of teaching procedures. 4 credits; Theory majors, 6 credits

THEORY 23. Graduate Solfege. Studies in advance of third year solfege in which the material is adapted to the special requirements of the student's major field. 4 credits

THEORY 24. Review of Harmony. A course designed primarily for graduate students whose previous harmonic training does not meet the minimum requirements of work at the graduate level. No credit

COMPOSITION 1. One hour per week of private instruction for Theory majors. 8 credits

COMPOSITION 2; COMPOSITION 3. One-half hour per week of private instruction for Theory majors. Each, 6 credits

COMPOSITION 11. One hour per week of private instruction for composition majors. 8 credits

COMPOSITION 12; COMPOSITION 13. One hour per week of private instruction for composition majors. Each, 12 credits

COMPOSITION 21. A class intended primarily for graduate students, not composition or theory majors, who wish to do practical work in composition. 4 credits

VI. MUSIC EDUCATION

MUSIC EDUCATION 1. String Class. Problems of organizing and teaching violin, viola, violoncello and contrabass classes; mixed string classes; mixed instrument classes including the stringed choir. Fundamental instruction in each of the stringed instruments and in class teaching procedures. 2 credits

MUSIC EDUCATION 2. Percussion Class. Problems of organizing and teaching snare drum, tympani, bass drum, cymbals, triangle, tambourine, castanets, glockenspiel, xylophone, marimba, and vibraphone. Fundamental instruction in each instrument and in class teaching procedures. 2 credits

MUSIC EDUCATION 3. Woodwind Class. Problems of organizing and teaching flute, oboe, clarinet, bassoon, saxophone, mixed woodwind instrument classes and mixed instrument classes including woodwind choir. Fundamental instruction in each of the single and double reed instruments and in class teaching procedures. 2 credits

MUSIC EDUCATION 4. Brass Class. Problems of organizing and teaching trumpet (cornet), trombone, horn, baritone, tuba, mixed brass instrument classes and mixed classes including brass choir. Fundamental instruction in each of the brass instruments and in class teaching procedures. 2 credits

MUSIC EDUCATION 5. Materials in Music Education and Solfege. An introductory course in the fundamentals of Music Education which aims to familiarize the student with a great deal of the best music for children and youth, from kindergarten through high school, mainly for singing but also for listening, rhythmic movement and ensemble playing. The course is designed to add to the student's practical knowledge and musicianship in music reading, accompanying, phrasing and harmonization. 4 credits

MUSIC EDUCATION 11. Music in Elementary Education. The place of music in the elementary curriculum projected against a background of practical conditions; procedures for the realization of valid objectives; study of supervisory and teaching procedures to determine their aesthetic values and practical uses in the education of children; vocal and instrumental problems; demonstration teaching; planning. 4 credits

MUSIC EDUCATION 12. Music in Secondary Education. The function of music in the general education of youth; a detailed consideration of the musical activities, courses and services suitable to the curriculum of modern secondary schools of various levels; problems arising from such limitations as school size, class schedule and budget; procedure and materials; qualities of the good teacher and supervisor. 4 credits

MUSIC EDUCATION 13. Instrumental School Music. The technical, administrative and teaching problems of planning and executing a program from earliest grade school levels to community levels. Development of objectives and aims for all levels; analysis of standardized prognostic and achievement music tests; analysis of materials of instruction; the evaluation program; practices and possibilities in the organization of pre-instrumental groups, homogeneous and heterogeneous instrument classes, bands, orchestras and small ensemble groups. 2 credits

MUSIC EDUCATION 14. Philosophy of Education. The psychology of learning applied to teaching; relation of the school and society; history of educational thought. The concept of developmental teaching; criteria for the evaluation of the teaching process; practical problems of preparation and classroom management; study of curriculum administration, with emphasis upon a social philosophy of teaching. 6 credits

MUSIC EDUCATION 15. Practice Teaching. Application of the materials of Music Education 3 and 4. Students are assigned to school systems in the Greater Boston area where they serve apprenticeships to regular teachers under the supervision of the local Director of Music and a critic teacher from the Conservatory. Attendance at a weekly seminar is required. At least two different teaching assignments are arranged each year to give variety of experience to each student-teacher. A minimum of 150 clock hours of teaching is required. 6 credits

MUSIC EDUCATION 21. Supervision. A seminar study of the principles and techniques of supervision in a democratic society, and their application to specific problems of curriculum building, guidance, measurements, materials, and teacher growth. One semester, 5 credits

MUSIC EDUCATION 22. Instrumental Music in the Schools. A seminar dealing with materials, guidance, measurements, administration, and program development. One semester, 5 credits

VII. MUSIC THERAPY

Admission to the courses in Music Therapy is only by consent of the chairman of the department.

MUSIC THERAPY 11. Basic factors in Music Therapy. An introduction to the scientific use of functional music in therapy. The student is trained to recognize, describe, and classify the events and relations between events that occur in the musical behavior patterns of patients. The significance of these events in terms of prediction and treatment. The conceptual schemata of different approaches to music therapy in the United States and abroad. The musical operations and procedures employed for the therapeutic advantage of orthopedic, medical, and psychiatric patients. The problems of group dynamics, communication, perception, and musical growth. Two 1½ hour seminars weekly. 6 credits

MUSIC THERAPY 12. Seminar in Methods and Materials of Music Therapy. A continuation of Music Therapy 11. The organization and guidance of musical situations in which therapeutic relationships are emphasized. The control of developmental changes in musical behavior. Methods of music therapy, transfer of learning, adoption of role, development of situational valence, building of communication networks, command of "levers of change" in musical interaction. Organization of musical literature, supplies and equipment for music therapy procedures; drafting of planning sheet; implications for research; experimental planning and design. Two 1½ hour seminars weekly. 6 credits

MUSIC THERAPY 13. Hospital Orientation. Introduction to hospital techniques and conduct; professional ethics; the treatment team; observation of music therapy operations with subsequent discussion; attendance at staff meetings, professional seminars, movies and lectures related to problems of therapy in general and music therapy in particular. Written reports and digests. Conducted at Boston State Hospital, Wednesdays, 9-1 o'clock.

Second semester, 2 credits

MUSIC THERAPY 14. Clinical Training and Hospital Affiliation. Opportunity for clinical experience with all classes of patients including children and adults, representing a wide range of pathological dysfunction. Experience in working with patients singly and in small groups under medical supervision; employment of standard music therapy operations; application of principles and techniques developed in seminars. Reports on staff meetings, discussion of observations and progress of individuals and groups worked with, and planning and executing of the music therapy program for a given institution. Conducted chiefly at Boston State Hospital. Fridays, 9-6 o'clock. 6 credits

VIII. ACADEMIC STUDIES

HUMANITIES

HUMANITIES 1. Introduction to the Study of Literary Forms. Training in the orderly presentation of ideas, both spoken and written, and in the technique of reading and evaluating the chief literary forms. Required of students whose score in the placement tests indicates need of this preparation for Humanities 2. 6 credits

HUMANITIES 2. Studies in the Development of Western Thought. Lectures and discussions based on literary works which reflect different attitudes toward man, his relation to the universe, and to his fellows. Ability to write honest, logical, mature discourse is assumed and will be required for the successful completion of this course as well as of other courses in the degree curriculum. Students whose performance in placement tests shows them unable to meet this requirement must register for English Laboratory (see page 57).

6 credits

HUMANITIES 3. Fine Arts. Illustrated lectures on the most important periods of architecture, sculpture and painting. Frequent museum trips.

6 credits

HUMANITIES 4. European History. A survey of European History by periods from Greece to the present, with emphasis on political theories and institutions in each period.

First semester, 3 credits

HUMANITIES 5. American History. A study of relationships between European and American history during the periods of settlement and expansion; development of democratic thought and institutions, including the history and principles of the Constitution; selected Supreme Court cases; social and cultural development, and adjustment to modern economic and political life.

TECHNIQUES

DRAMA 1. Dramatic Production. A special course designed for music education majors but available to voice majors. Its purpose is to prepare students to handle the problems inherent in the production of operettas and pageants in the public schools. Attention will also be given to program building as it applies to all types of public performances. 2 credits

DRAMA 2. Elementary Acting Techniques. A course in the technique of acting, designed to give confidence and platform familiarity to students who plan to concentrate on performance of music in public. Acting of scenes from plays, laboratory productions, and study of other important theater techniques, such as make-up, costumes, and lighting, will be included. One semester, 1 credit

ENGLISH LABORATORY. Required of those whose scores on the Co-operative Achievement Tests indicate the need for further study of the fundamentals of English composition. This course may, with the permission of the instructor, be taken concurrently with Humanities 2. 2 credits

FUNDAMENTALS OF SPEECH. Study and practice of the principles of voice and diction as applied to spoken English. 2 credits

DEPARTMENT OF POPULAR MUSIC

POPULAR MUSIC CERTIFICATE

In keeping with its aim of providing the best possible instruction in every branch of music, the Conservatory offers through its Popular Music Department a complete three-year curriculum designed to prepare students by direct, systematic methods to meet the increasingly competitive demands of the profession of popular music.

The full facilities of the Conservatory are available for instruction in voice, in the various instruments (including trumpet, trombone, clarinet, saxophone, accordion, bass, piano and percussion) and in arranging. Upon satisfactory completion of the course requirements, the student is awarded the New England Conservatory Certificate in Popular Music and is prepared not only to perform but also to teach popular music.

The Popular Music Courses

VOICE

Students choosing the voice curriculum are given training and instruction in the various styles of singing involved in performance with a dance orchestra, in theatre, radio and television, and for recordings, as well as extensive training in stage appearance and performance techniques. Several scenes from musical plays are enacted each year. Considerable emphasis is laid on the extremely important ability to read at sight and to memorize quickly.

INSTRUMENTAL PERFORMANCE

In addition to private instruction in his instrument, the student has the benefit of public performance in a full-sized dance band and of rehearsals in which he is thoroughly prepared in sight reading, intonation, attack, phrasing, improvisation and sense of musical style and balance.

Students are encouraged to develop appropriate instrumental doubles, and singers who are better than average instrumentalists have an opportunity to develop skill in a chosen instrument. Similarly, students who play a symphonic instrument may acquire valuable experience from occasional reading sessions with the Conservatory (symphonic) Orchestra or with the Orchestra Drill Class.

ARRANGING

The study of this most technical aspect of popular music has been facilitated by the creation at the Conservatory of a large library of popular scores in the original manuscript. Included are works by such leaders as Hugo Winterhalter, Axel Stordahl, Morton Gould, Leroy Anderson, Russell Bennett and many others. In many cases, recordings of the works are available to enhance their value to the analyst.

The curriculum leading to the certificate in arranging is designed to acquaint the student with a wide variety of styles, encompassing the jazz "combo" as well as vocal accompaniment, Latin-American forms, popular concert music, and the musical theatre. Students have the opportunity to hear many of their own arrangements, both orchestral and vocal, presented at one of the several annual performances by the complete popular music department. Original compositions in the popular vein are also frequently included.

Requirements for Admission

1. A diploma from an accredited high school or preparatory school, or its equivalent. No special distribution of subjects (or credits) is required, but musical experience, either within or outside the curriculum, gives the entering student a substantial advantage.

2. An official transcript of the secondary school record and a recommendation from the principal or headmaster.

3. An audition in which the student must demonstrate musical achievement as defined in his major field. (See below on page 59.)

NOTE: The following placement tests will be given during the week preceding the opening of the fall term:

A standard classification test.

Achievement tests in English prepared by the Cooperative Test Service of the American Council on Education.

A test in the fundamentals of music.

and a personality and attitude of the type to present material before audiences.

ORCHESTRAL INSTRUMENTS: The candidate should be prepared to play scales, arpeggios, technical exercises, and at least two set pieces for the instrument (one in slow, singing style and one in a fast rhythmic style). The candidate should also demonstrate good intonation, average familiarity with popular song literature, and average ability to read a dance orchestration at sight.

ARRANGING: The candidate must have keyboard facility equivalent to Piano 3*, and a superior natural ear or some preliminary experience in simple dance-band scoring. The equivalent of Theory 1 is required for admission to the first year of the curriculum.

Requirements for Graduation

In addition to the satisfactory completion of the curriculum, a student must demonstrate musical achievement as defined below in his major field.

PIANO: Thorough knowledge of popular song repertoire; ability to perform advanced arrangements (such as Walter and Shearing) and shorter contemporary recital pieces (such as Copland and Villa-Lobos); advanced sight reading ability; fluent vocal accompanying ability in free style. At least two years of creditable work with the Popular Orchestra is required, including a solo or duo-piano performance in public.

VOICE: Better than average sight-reading ability; adequate stage poise; extensive repertoire, particularly of standard popular show-music songs. At least two years of frequent rehearsal and performance with the Popular Orchestra and at least two appearances at performances staged by the Vocal Performance Class are required.

ORCHESTRAL INSTRUMENTS: Advanced knowledge of popular song repertoire; advanced sight-reading ability; professional competence in technical facility and tone quality. Three years of creditable work with the Popular Orchestra and, if practical, a solo performance with orchestra is required.

ARRANGING: Better than average speed in writing; proficiency in score reading; moderate ability in writing original music for underscoring; thorough knowledge of instrumentation and orchestration, from dance-band to symphony level. Public performance of at least six scores by the Popular Orchestra is required.

CURRICULA LEADING TO THE CERTIFICATE IN POPULAR MUSIC

The term "Supplementary" means one-half hour of private instruction per week. The numbers at the extreme right of the course name represent the number of credits granted for the course. Each credit (exclusive of applied music and other private instruction) represents one hour per week of class work for one semester. Thus six credits represent three hours of classes per week for two semesters.

DESCRIPTION OF POPULAR MUSIC COURSES

POPULAR MUSIC 1. Elementary Theory. The first semester deals with music fundamentals in their simplest form, including primary aspects of melody, harmony and rhythm; the second semester supplements the traditional study of solfege and harmony by correlating the academic approach with the various conditioning factors which occur in current commercial practice, including simple harmonic analysis, melody and obbligato writing, rhythmic formulas of frequent occurrence in popular music, structural analysis of popular songs, etc. 4 credits

POPULAR MUSIC 2. Elementary Arranging. A systematic study of instrumentation leading to a practical understanding of the problems of the professional arranger. Varied types and styles of orchestration are discussed, and the student is given a working knowledge of the fundamentals of writing for the dance orchestra. 4 credits

POPULAR MUSIC 3. Popular Music in the Twentieth Century. (one semester) This course will deal with famous and influential groups and personalities prominent in popular music from the turn of the century until the present, including performers, composers, and arrangers as well as orchestral groups. Illustrated by recordings. 2 credits

POPULAR MUSIC 4. Business Aspects of Popular Music (one semester) This course will deal chiefly with the practical problems encountered by the young musician in the various fields of commercial music, such as dance-band playing, theatre work, radio staff work, recording, composing, publishing, television, etc. 2 credits

POPULAR MUSIC 5. Performance Class in Vocal Technique. This course is designed to fit performance needs and requirements of intermediate level singers; the emphasis is upon basic interpretation and staging of standard and current popular vocal literature. An examination of various singing styles will be undertaken, with frequent opportunities for study of the problems involved in recorded performances. 4 credits

POPULAR MUSIC 6. Repertory. This course will acquaint the student, through painstaking drills, with at least one hundred and fifty carefully chosen popular songs, vital to the demands of everyday musical performance, and known as "standards". Emphasis in class will be upon (1) listening to recorded or piano performances and (2) playing or singing the melody by ear. Assigned work will involve the transferring of the same melodies into loose-leaf notebooks to provide a basic repertoire for general performance requirements. 4 credits

and Ensemble
Lessons*

*Popular
Music
Orchestra*

A student conducts the Music Education Band

POPULAR MUSIC 7. Advanced Vocal Ensemble. Trio, quartet, and quintet singing in the close-harmony rhythmic style prevalent in radio and dance bands of today. Students other than voice majors may elect this course. Reading ability is a higher prerequisite than vocal development. 4 credits

POPULAR MUSIC 8. Performance Class in Advanced Vocal Technique. The related fields of standard operetta and musical comedy, with emphasis on the new American musical theatre as developed by Weill, Rodgers, Kern, and Gershwin. Informal public performances of scenes and ensembles are given. A small orchestra is often used and microphone technique, style, appearance, and stage deportment are studied. 4 credits

POPULAR MUSIC 9. Advanced Theory. This course will deal with extended chords, altered chords, bass lines, countermelodies, modulation, C clefs, harmonic re-arrangement, elementary song composition, etc. 2 credits

POPULAR MUSIC 10. First year arranging. One hour per week of private instruction. 8 credits

POPULAR MUSIC 11. Second year arranging. One hour per week of private instruction. 8 credits

POPULAR MUSIC 12. Third year arranging. One hour per week of private instruction. 8 credits

POPULAR VOCAL ENSEMBLE. A choral group designed to acquaint the student with the fundamental principles of choral singing. Although traditional technique will be stressed, the material used will be drawn from contemporary radio and theatre literature. This group will also serve as an occasional laboratory for arranging majors. 4 credits

POPULAR ORCHESTRA. For students interested in obtaining professionally supervised experience in dance-band playing, singing, and arranging. Precision and reading ability will be stressed, and ability at improvisation will be encouraged.

Although the usual dance-band instrumentation of saxophones, brass and rhythm serve as a basis, the frequent use of strings, woodwind doubles and French horn add to the scope of this group, making possible the performance of a large variety of styles of music drawn from the theatre and radio as well as the ballroom. 4 credits

POPULAR ORCHESTRA DRILL. This class will divide the dance band into individual sections of reeds and brass, meeting separately for drill practice upon repertoire to be performed by the group as a whole. The rhythm section will divide to support each portion. 2 credits

Financial Regulations

Medical Fee $10.00 per Academic Year

This fee applied to women students living in the Conservatory House and must be paid at the time of registration. It covers all ordinary medication and infirmity occupation, but does not cover the cost of drugs or medications which cannot be obtained by an individual without a doctor's prescription.

This is an annual fee and not refundable.

Library Fee $10.00 per Academic Year

The purpose of this fee is:

- (1) to insure return of all material.
- (2) for loss of material.
- (3) for library fines.

The unused portion will be credited to the student's account.

day, or else, because of the limited enrollment, forfeit the deposit.

In the case of graduate students the deposit is $20. It will be applied toward tuition upon registration, but it is not refundable.

All annual charges, except for books, are payable in full in advance. However, tuition charges may be paid one-half less the deposit at registration and the remaining one-half on January 15. Applied Music instruction may also be paid in installments, one-half at registration and the balance on January 15. A book deposit of $25 is required of regularly enrolled students at registration, or of $5 in the case of Special students. Any credit remaining on the book deposit at the end of the year will be carried forward to the next year unless a refund is requested.

No refunds or allowances will be made for late entrance or lessons missed. Students entering classes late in the semester will be charged for the full semester and must pay for the necessary private lessons to make up the work.

Refunds cannot be made in the event of withdrawal from the Conservatory or of withdrawal from any class after the second week of the academic year. When instruction has been discontinued because of non-payment of tuition, reinstatement may be made only by payment of all fees due. Lessons missed during this interval will be forfeited.

A charge of five dollars will be made for registering any full-course student later than the first day of classes. A charge of five dollars will be made to all upperclassmen who fail by August 15 to return with approval, or with a request for a change, the curriculum for the following year which will be mailed to them early in the summer by the Dean's office. This charge will not be made if the Conservatory proposes a change.

A deposit of $50 must accompany all applications for rooms in the Women's Student Residence. Room fees are payable in advance, one-half less the deposit at registration, the balance on January 15. All rooms are leased on the basis of the school year, or in the case of late entrance, for the balance of the year, and must be paid for on that basis.

Students may place money and valuables on deposit with the Cashier's office and may draw on such deposits at any time during business hours. No charge is made for this service.

In certain instances, where the financial regulations outlined above would entail undue hardship, application for special arrangements may be made to the Assistant Treasurer.

SCHOLARSHIPS, LOANS, AND PRIZES

To entering high school or preparatory school graduates in need of financial assistance who are accepted for one of the full courses, the New England Conservatory offers a number of scholarships as follows:

FRESHMAN SCHOLARSHIPS. A limited number of scholarships of $200 each to students graduating from high schools or preparatory schools who are recommended by the Principal or Music Supervisor.

FRESHMAN ORCHESTRAL SCHOLARSHIPS. A limited number of scholarships of $250 each to students graduating from high schools or preparatory schools who are recommended by the Principal or Music Supervisor, who plan to major in an orchestral instrument, and who pass a satisfactory audition in their principal instrument.

Application for Freshman Scholarships must be submitted to the Dean by April 15. Forms for this purpose will be supplied upon request. Scholarship grants in addition to the above amounts will be considered in the case of candidates for entrance who show outstanding promise and financial need.

OTHER SCHOLARSHIPS

The following scholarships are awarded annually to students of the Conservatory who fulfill the requirements of ability and achievement and who are in need of financial assistance. Application for scholarships for the ensuing year must be made on the prescribed application form not later than March 1.

FRESHMAN ACHIEVEMENT SCHOLARSHIP. A scholarship of $350 is offered to the student who attains the highest scholastic record during his first year at the Conservatory. This sum will be applied toward tuition during the second year.

CARL BAERMANN SCHOLARSHIP. The income of a fund of five thousand dollars raised in memory of the late Carl Baermann of the faculty. In Piano.

LOUISE BAKER SCHOLARSHIP. The income of a bequest of five thousand dollars under the will of the late Louise Baker of Boston.

ANNA C. BIRD SCHOLARSHIP. The income of a fund to be used for scholarship purposes.

KATE E. BLANCHARD SCHOLARSHIP. The income of a bequest of ten thousand dollars, under the will of Kate E. Blanchard, late of Roxbury, Massachusetts, for one or more scholarships.

MABEL W. DANIELS SCHOLARSHIP. The income of a fund to be used for scholarship purposes.

EMMA EAMES SCHOLARSHIP. The income of a fund to be used for scholarship purposes which will provide complete and continuing tuition and subsistence for a young American soprano who meets the specific requirements for eligibility.

FLORENCE E. BROWN SCHOLARSHIP. The gift of the late President of the Board of Trustees, George W. Brown, Esq., in memory of his daughter. In Violin, $250.

BENEFACTANT SOCIETY LOANS

The Beneficent Society of the New England Conservatory of Music has a fund available to lend to Junior, Senior and Graduate students of the Conservatory who have been properly recommended, for the purpose of assisting them with their tuition expenses. This fund is a revolving fund and is loaned, without interest, with the understanding that the loans will be repaid as soon as possible in order that they may be used again for other students needing help. Meetings for the consideration of loans will be held early in October and February. Application blanks may be obtained from the office of the President of the Conservatory.

PRIZES

GEORGE WHITEFIELD CHADWICK MEDAL. To be awarded annually to the senior student whose entire Conservatory record of achievement has been most distinguished by superior accomplishment in the candidate's major field, supplementary studies, extra curricular activities, and good citizenship. The candidate will be determined by a majority vote of the Faculty Council.

MU PHI EPSILON MEDAL. Awarded by Beta Chapter to a woman student who, in the first year of her course, has been outstanding in musicianship, scholarship, and citizenship, and who gives evidence of great future achievement in her major field.

FACULTY AWARD

FREDERICK S. CONVERSE FELLOWSHIP. Awarded by the Executive Committee to a member of the Theory Department, such member to be recommended by the President for assisting in the supervision and administration of courses in the field of Music Theory, and for the purpose of achieving an effective coordination. Carl McKinley has been appointed for the academic year 1955-1956.

GENERAL REGULATIONS

Responsibility for the admission, continuance, promotion, and graduation of each student is vested in the President, the Dean and the Faculty Council. The New England Conservatory reserves the right to accept, to refuse, to suspend, or to cancel permanently the registration of any student without being required to give specific reasons for such action.

The administration requires prompt and regular attendance at classes and private lessons. When absence is caused by illness, the student should notify the Registrar in advance of a class or lesson to be missed. For other absences the student must obtain permission from the Dean. Classes missed and not excused before the hour of meeting will be considered cuts. More than two cuts per semester in any one course may result in disciplinary action. Private teachers are not required to make up lessons lost by unexcused absence.

The student may not change from one course to another or from one section to another except with the consent of the Dean. He may not change the teacher in his major field unless he has the written permission of the President. Courses discontinued without the Dean's consent will be recorded as failures. No course may be discontinued officially after the first two weeks of the semester.

All programs, whether graduation recitals or concerts by student organizations, must be submitted for the President's approval in typewritten form at least three weeks in advance of the date of performance.

Any student who participates in a public musical performance outside the Conservatory is required to report such engagement to the Dean at least one week in advance of the performance. Regular musical positions, such as organist or member of an orchestra, must also be reported.

All matters concerning deposits, tuition, fees or rentals are to be taken up with the appropriate financial office. The Registrar has charge of practice room rentals and use of these rooms without his permission is forbidden.

The Assistant Treasurer may grant permission to practice in the concert halls, but only as immediate preparation for an official recital. Arrangements to use the recital halls and other facilities are made in his office. Responsibility for the care and condition of the buildings and equipment is vested in the Assistant Treasurer and all matters pertaining thereto are within his jurisdiction.

GENERAL INFORMATION

Marking System

Marks, based on regular class work, examination grades, and attendance, are given a student for every subject at the end of each semester. They are indicated by the conventional symbols A, B, C, D, and E. In order to graduate, a student must achieve a grade of C or higher in at least 75% of all his courses in each of the three divisions of his work: major field subjects; supplementary music subjects and secondary instrumental study; and supplementary academic subjects.

Honors

Honors are awarded at Commencement to recipients of the Bachelor of Music degree and the Popular Music certificate whose scholastic average throughout the course indicates superior work. Honors are divided as follows:

Highest Honors	9.5 to 10
Honors with Distinction	9.0 to 9.49 inclusive
Honors	8.6 to 8.99 inclusive

Special Students

The facilities of the New England Conservatory are available to all qualified students who wish to pursue further their study or training in music without necessarily qualifying for a degree. Instruction is available to beginners and professionals, students and amateurs of all ages, not only in the playing of instruments individually or in ensemble but also in arranging, composition, and other subjects. Registration for class instruction is on a full semester basis; private lessons are available by arrangement. The Dean's Office will be glad to furnish additional information and counsel.

Adult Avocational Instruction

Adults who have always wanted to play an instrument but never had the opportunity, and adults who have discontinued playing and now would like to resume it, will find trained instructors at the Conservatory who understand both the problems and desires involved.

The final 30 credits leading to a degree (or the final 26 credits for the Popular Certificate) must be taken in residence at the New England Conservatory of Music.

Page 78—Substitute for 3rd sentence of 1st paragraph:

No student will be allowed to graduate unless 75% of all grades received in the Bachelor of Music Degree or Popular Certificate courses are C or above (figured on the basis of the number of semester hours of credit given).

Veterans

The New England Conservatory of Music is approved by the Veterans Administration and will accept veterans for education and training under P.L. 550, 346, and 16, provided they have met the entrance requirements as stated on page 13.

Certain credits will be allowed for musical experience obtained in the armed services and for any courses a veteran may have taken at the U.S.A.F.I.

All inquiries should be directed to the Veterans Counselor.

Summer Session

During a period of six weeks beginning toward the end of June, the Summer Session offers class and private instruction in applied music, music education, music therapy, music theory and academic subjects. During this period it is possible for qualified students to earn credit for a semester's work in two or three subjects, a total of six semester hours of credit being the maximum allowable during one session. Credit is permanently recorded and is available for transfer to other institutions. Students not working toward a degree are also eligible for credit work upon application to the Dean on or before the close of the academic year.

A special course dealing with the problems of Instrumental Music in the Public Schools is offered for music educators and professional musicians.

Detailed information about the summer offerings will be furnished upon request.

Berkshire Music Center at Tanglewood

Candidates for the Master's Degree, Artist's Diploma, and students of advanced ability who have been accepted by the New England Conservatory and the Berkshire Music Center for study during the summer, may undertake private lessons in applied music with members of the Conservatory faculty who also teach at Tanglewood. Appropriate credits for such study will be given by the Conservatory to students who are qualified, provided they register with the Dean of the Conservatory prior to the opening of the Berkshire Music Center.

Candidates who meet the requirements of the Berkshire Music Center may register for additional courses offered there.

Additional Summer Instruction

In addition to the work of the Summer Session, special students in piano, voice, violin or other instruments, or in supplementary musical or academic subjects may register for private lessons during the whole or any part of the period between the close of the academic year in June and the opening of the fall semester in September.

Placement Bureau

The Conservatory Placement Bureau keeps in constant touch with music organizations and employment agencies throughout the country and over a period of years has been highly successful in obtaining appropriate placement for graduates who are qualified in the various fields. In addition, with the approval of the President, the Placement Bureau helps well qualified students who are earning part or all of their educational expenses to obtain remunerative engagements in church and concert work.

Alumni Association

All graduates of the Conservatory and all former students are eligible for membership in the New England Conservatory Alumni Association, which is a member of the American Alumni Council. Active membership is dependent upon a voluntary contribution to the Annual Alumni Fund.

The Alumni Association sponsors several events at Commencement, including New England Conservatory night at the Boston Pops concerts. It also sponsors student and alumni assemblies during the year.

Radio

The Conservatory is a member of the Lowell Institute Broadcasting Council and shares with others the facilities of Station WGBH-FM and TV. Two programs are broadcast each week during the school year. On Monday evenings, a half-hour recorded program presents students in various forms of musical performance with comment by faculty members. On Thursday evenings the Conservatory presents live broadcasts from Jordan Hall of full-length concerts by the Chorus, the Orchestra, advanced students, faculty members, and ensemble groups.

Library

The Library consists of a Main Library with over 20,000 volumes of books and music, including many invaluable sketches or first editions of famous scores; Choral and Orchestral libraries containing 1100 and 2200 titles respectively; the Cobb-Walker collection of some 5000 volumes of classical and modern literature, poetry, biography, travel, history, etc.; and a record library containing over 5000 records and tapes of music.

An unusual feature of the library is the collection of 240 instruments for use in the orchestra or for rental to students when required. The collection includes such rare items as an Amati violin, a Guarnerius violoncello and four violi da gamba made under the direction of Arnold Dolmetsch.

Living Accommodations

The New England Conservatory House, located within a five minute walk of the Conservatory, provides attractive accommodations for women students. All women students who are not living at home are required to live at the N.E.C. House, which is under the direction of a Resident Head and her assistants, with the usual regulations that apply to college dormitories. Ample reception rooms are provided on the first floor and large recreation rooms in the basement make an ideal social center under careful supervision. Rooms must be taken for the full academic year, or in the case of late entrance, for the balance of the academic year. Fees are $315 a year per person for double rooms and $380 for single rooms. The rooms will be shown at any time during the day by appointment.

While the Conservatory does not maintain its own accommodations for men students, it does keep a file of rooming houses which students have found to be satisfactory. The Conservatory cannot assume any responsibility for these rooming houses but does strive to keep on the list only those where clean and pleasant conditions prevail. The Y.M.C.A. is located adjacent to the Conservatory building.

APPENDIX

PREPARATORY COURSES IN APPLIED MUSIC

Courses of study in Piano, Violin, Viola and Violoncello are divided into ten grades; courses of study in Harp, Flute, Oboe, Clarinet, Bassoon, Horn, Trumpet, Trombone, Double Bass, and Percussion are divided into eight grades.

Suggested works to be studied and standards of techniques are outlined for the pre-college courses in the following pages. The choice of works to be studied is left to the discretion of the instructor, who is at liberty to substitute material of equal worth and degree of difficulty.

This section is frequently referred to in the main part of the catalogue as a guide to the degree of proficiency required of Conservatory students in their supplementary instrument.
